Monday 3 February 15.00- 15.30

International Conference Centre, Geneva (CICG) Room 5

The past few years have seen a welcome shift in attention to inclusion of persons with disabilities in humanitarian action, now recognized as a core component of good humanitarian programming. This briefing session will present concrete examples of how persons with disabilities can, and should be, included in Humanitarian Needs Overviews (HNOs) and Humanitarian Response Plans (HRPs), as a foundation for the delivery of a humanitarian response that reaches those who are often most at risk.

Speakers will include:

OCHA, Humanitarian Data Centre, IOM, UNICEF and Humanity & Inclusion (TBC)

Content for this session is based on collaborative work of UNICEF, OCHA, UNHCR, IOM, WFP, WHO, The International Disability Alliance and Humanity & Inclusion, with support from DFID.

ISL and CART will be provided
